-----	----	----	---

- v1 Running through cornfields that lead to the station,
Watching the London train steam on its way,
Walking the platform to wave at the driver,
Then back through the corn, to the rest of the day
- v2 Skipping down pathways that lead to the meadow,
Watching the tractor make lines in the ground
Sitting on tree stumps to wave at the farmer,
Then back to the pathways, and back into town
- Br Waving at the townsfolk as they go about their way,
Hustling and bustling, an ordinary day
Waving at the soldiers as they drill within the square,
Waving at the spitfires as they fly past in the air
- v3 Crossing the sand dunes that lead to the harbour,
Watching the fishing boats moor on the quay,
Sitting in sunshine to wave at the trawlermen,
Then back through the sand dunes for afternoon tea
