v1 A longstanding calmness so rudely exchanged
 For a buzz of suspense at a life rearranged,
 And a thrill of suspicion that everything's changed
 When boy meets girl;

ch1 Who would have thought it would happen like this,
 The heart all a stutter, the head just a whirl,
 Caught in a flutter, the flutter of bliss
 When boy meets girl?

v2 A long dormant ember that bursts into flame
 At the stir of a thought, or the thought of a name,
 Or suggestion that nothing can quite be the same
 When girl meets boy;

Who would have thought it would ch2 happen this way,
 The head full of themes for the heart to enjoy,
 Of floating on dreams, or just floating away
 When girl meets boy?
