V1 I've been through every forest,
Carved our names on every tree,
In lavish fonts designed
To tell the world of you and me:
Yet these are only words,

And words have failed me now.

v2 I've lobbied every pilot,
Persuaded each to fly,
So you could see my love lit large
In smoke trails in the sky:
Yet these were merely words,
And words have failed me now.

Br I've conquered every mountain,
Planted flags within the snow,
Yodelled out your praises
To everyone below:
Yet words are simply gestures,
Their purpose just for show,
And words have failed me now

v3 I've garnished every love note,
With glitter spray and glue,
Sealed each flap with loving kisses.
Posted on to you:
Yet all it was, was words,
And words have failed me now.
