				It

VERSE 1

10	D	D7	G	G
	seems again he's	on a different	planet,	A
14	A	A7	D	A7
	world of blinding	lights and meteor	showers,	But
18	D	D7	G	G
	on the whole,
22	A	F#m	D	A7
	I'd	guess that it's a better world than	ours	So,

VERSE 2 (as Verse 1)

26	D	D7	G	G
	once again he's	off within a	daydream etc

38	A	F#m	D	A7
	I'm	sure that it's a better place than	here

BRIDGE

42	G	Em	Bm	Bm
	You might think he's	off to join a	picnic,	A
46	A	F#m	D	A7
	sandwich short with	hatter and the	hare,	But
50	G	Em	Bm	Bm
	though you might dis-	miss him as a	dipstick,	It's
54	A	F#m	D	A7
	fair to say he	really wouldn't	care,	No
58	A	F#m
	words of yours will	touch him when he's

INSTRUMENTAL (as Verse 1)

60	D	D7	G	G
	there
64	A	A7	D	A7
68	D	D7	G	G
72	A	F#m	D	A7
				So

VERSE 3 (as Verse 1)

76	A	G	A	D/A
	yet again he's	gone off with the	fairies etc

88	A	F#m	D	A7
	It's	got to be a better place than	this

CODA (fade)

- v1 It seems, again, he's on a different planet,
A world of blinding lights and meteor showers,
But on the whole,
I'd guess that it's a better world than ours.
- v2 So once again, he's off within in a daydream,
Exactly where his mind is isn't clear,
But then again,
I'm sure that it's a better place than here.
- Br You might think he's off to join a picnic,
A sandwich short with hatter and the hare,
But though you might dismiss him as a dipstick,
It's fair to say he really wouldn't care:
No words of yours can touch him when he's there.
- v3 So, yet again, he's gone off with the fairies,
A place of if and but, or hit and miss,
But what the hell,
It's got to be a better place than this.
